Professional experience

Ádám joined our firm as an attorney in 2016.

Before re-joining our firm, Ádám already spent 9 months of his trainee period with our tax department. In addition, he gained significant experience in the field of tax law by working for a reputable international law firm in Budapest.

Ádám mainly assists our clients in tax advisory matters and tax litigation cases. He occasionally also advises clients on general commercial law questions.

Education

Ádám obtained his diploma at the Law Faculty of Eötvös Loránd University Budapest in 2012. During his studies he spent a semester at the Assas University of Paris.

Beside his legal studies, he obtained a BA diploma at the School of Economy of the Budapest Corvinus University.

In addition Ádám is giving lectures in tax law at Corvinus University of Budapest as a visiting lecturer.

Personal interests

Ádám is an enthusiastic soccer player and finds passion in travelling.
